Hearings Before the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct, House of Representatives in the Matter of Representative Austin J. Murphy, One Hundredth Congress, First Session, Transcript of Testimony, Evidence Considered, and Materials Related to the Disciplinary Hearing Held in Washington, DC, on November 17, 18, 19, 20; December 2, 3, 1987

Lawrence Lessig, "the most important thinker on intellectual property in the Internet era", masterfully argues that never before in human history has the power to control creative progress been in the hands of the powerful few, the so-called Big Media. Never before have the cultural powers- that-be been able to exert such control over what we can and can't do with the culture around us, free markets and free speech; why then does it permit such top-down control? To lose our long tradition of free culture, Lawrence Lessig shows us, is to lose our freedom to create, our freedom to think, and ultimately, our freedom to imagine.
