AmeriBar's outlines for the Multistate Essay Examination (MEE). The outlines cover the substantive law for all of the non-MBE topics that are set forth by the National Conference of Bar Examiners as testable on the MEE. This book DOES NOT contain outlines for the subjects tested on the Multistate Bar Examination (MBE) Subjects that are covered in this book include:Business Associations (Agency, Partnership, Corporations, and LLCs)Conflict of LawsFamily LawTrusts and Decedent's Estates (Wills)Uniform Commercial Code (Secured Transactions)The MEE Outline book is divided into sections covering each of these testable subjects on the Multistate Essay Exam. The MEE is administered as a component of the Uniform Bar Exam (UBE) in several states including Missouri, Arizona, North Dakota, New Hampshire, and several others. The MEE is also administered in several non UBE states including West Virginia, Illinois, South Dakota, and several others.The outlines are written clearly and concisely. They focus on testability. A starting system is used to highlight frequently tested issues.

Essay-writing systems, Gallagher provides step-by-step instructions on essay-writing systems and confidence-building practices. A review of the best and worst ways to respond to essay questions is included. (Study Guide)

This brief, witty book gives examinees a real taste of what the bar exam experience feels like, from the first day of bar prep through the exam days themselves. Michael Stockman provides examples from his own experience taking the NY and MA bar exams in 2010 and 2011. The author shares strategies he devised to manage BarBri, the prep courses he took twice, explaining the strategies that worked for him, from how to get organized to specific advice about condensing notes. He offers study tips and practical advice about test days (such as what to bring) and how to manage stress and anxiety. In addition to a chapter for LLM students, there is a chapter for older test takers and those returning to the law.

Zen is a way of life—and so is studying for the bar exam. The Zen of Passing the Bar Exam offers a comprehensive approach to studying for (and passing) the bar exam, drawing a parallel between how one should approach the bar exam, and how Zen principles teach one to approach life. Each section of the book offers a Zen quote to introduce concepts that can be applied to studying for the bar exam in order to maximize your chances of passing. Zen teaches that in order to reach enlightenment, one must strive to be balanced, know your true self, know your universe, and stay focused on your path. Similarly, in order to reach the “enlightenment” of passing the bar exam, one must have the attributes of balance (between studying and other aspects of life, as well as balancing your study time between subjects, and between essays, MBE questions, etc.), knowing your true self (what type of essay writer you are, what type of learner you are, what type of learner you are, what type of learner you are, etc.), knowing your universe (knowing the law, how the questions are asked, how to look for, etc.), and staying focused on your path (when to study, what to do when you are stressed/panicked, what to do when you don’t know a subject very well, etc.). In addition to offering a comprehensive approach to studying for the bar exam, the book also offers specific, practical advice for doing well on both the essay and MBE portions of the bar exam. The book outlines specific organizational/formatting tips for how to write effective (and efficient) essays under bar exam time constraints. The book is ideal for adoption for any law school bar preparation course (or Academic Support Program), providing many exercises, examples, and model answers applicable to any state’s bar exam.
