

Facilitator Guide To Domestic Violence

Another Way...Choosing to Change: Facilitator Guide - 26 Week Curriculum is a victim-centered, research-informed curriculum that addresses criminogenic risk and needs in order to achieve transformational learning and promote empathy building. The psychoeducational format, which features a trauma-informed approach and uses such promising practices as motivational interviewing and ACEs research, helps practitioners lead groups through an innovative, highly relational, and skills-based batterer intervention program. This edition is specifically tailored to support a 26-week program. The facilitator guide begins with a comprehensive overview of the program, including discussions of its philosophy, design, and theoretical framework, as well as implementation strategies and tips for retention. The guide progresses in tandem with the curriculum, providing facilitators with step-by-step instructions, suggested timeframes, and key strategies so they can confidently and competently lead participants through each lesson and each critical stage of intervention and recovery. At the end of each lesson, Facilitator Helps sections provides suggestions for how to explain specific parts of the lesson, references to helpful websites for further research and knowledge building, and cautions about potential issues that may arise during group discussions. Another Way...Choosing to Change is an exemplary curriculum to rehabilitate domestic violence offenders and, in doing so, increase safety and empathy for victims of violence. Nada J. Yorke is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker, the co-owner of Yorke Consulting, and the manager of Correctional Counseling for Change, which provides assistance to individuals and organizations who desire to implement batterer intervention programming within correctional and rehabilitation centers. With over 35 years in the criminal justice field, Nada is a retired probation officer, former victim advocate, published researcher and author, and recognized court expert in domestic violence, having testified in over 25 trials. She holds a master's degree in social work from California State University at Bakersfield. A trainings program and learning tool created to raise awareness of the needs and challenges facing refugee and immigrant victims of violence and to generate discussion on strategies to eliminate the barriers and address family violence issues. The video is a multi-lingual stage presentation that illustrates the obstacles faced by immigrant victims of domestic violence, such as language barriers, fear of legal systems and community pressures, as well as the challenges faced by all families experience domestic violence. It also includes several case studies and interviews with a number of public safety officials. The Facilitor's guide includes six activities designed to complement the information being presented in the performance and allow participants to identify the barriers; research and understand the complexity of the issues; and develop strategies to address the problem. The guide also provides a wide range of information and tools for professionals working with immigrant victims of domestic violence, such as fact sheets, referral lists, case studies, and domestic violence resources. Cf. p. 3-4.

This problem-solving mediation training guide provides a comprehensive step-by-step walk through mediation using Christopher Moore's problem-solving model. Included in the manual is a case study, a role play, and activities. In addition to the aforementioned, facilitator notes are included to enhance the learner's experience. Participant guides are also available for purchase.

A Psychoeducational Approach for Individuals and Couples

Facilitator's guide to the prevention of domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking in the Deaf community

Another Way...Choosing to Change

Young Women's Lives Facilitator's Guide - Item 5424

Responsible Steps Toward Violence Prevention : RSVP, a Family Intervention Strategy

The Duluth Model

Abused Boys Wounded Men Facilitator's Guide - Item 1803

The book is written as a guide for group facilitators of anger management and domestic violence programs. It is designed to cover the core topics required for the 40 hour certification required by the state of California.

Violot no more outlines positive, straightforward steps that men can take to recognize and change their own abusive behavior.

Another Way...Choosing to Change: Facilitator Guide - Women's Edition provides facilitators with a strengths-based approach and research-based program for intervening with women who have used force against their intimate partners. The sessions address gender-specific treatment needs using evidence-based clinical interventions and adult learning principles. Drawing from relational theory principles, the program is designed to guide participants toward healthy self-reflection and increased personal resiliency, while they explore safe and nonviolent relationship responses. Unlike many current models for abuser intervention programs, this program recognizes the value of trauma recovery, the need for emotional regulation, and cognitive restructuring as the participants learn to identify and employ the non-violent options available to them. The guide progresses in tandem with the 52-week Participant's Handbook, providing facilitators with step-by-step instructions, suggested timeframes, and key strategies so they can confidently and competently lead participants through each lesson and each critical stage of intervention and recovery. Another Way...Choosing to Change is an exemplary curriculum to help women develop deeper connection, cultivate opportunities to foster healthy interdependence in their relationships, and embrace non-violent solutions.

A Therapist's Guide to Group Work with Adult Survivors of Sexual Violence

Achieving Our Potential

The Battered Immigrant Woman's Experience : Video and Facilitator's Guide

Beyond Anger and Violence

Facilitator Guide - Women's Edition

Forming Couples for a Sacramental Marriage

Violent No More

A 16 week, trauma-focused course for justice-involved youth

Author Paul Kivel uses his own experience - as a counselor, son, and father - to illustrate how men are taught to respond to women, other men, and traditions. The easy-to-read text examines the social framework of violence and power, and explores the relationship between drugs and violence. AUDIO -- The audio tape version is designed to be listed to segment by segment with pauses inserted for discussion or thought. The audio helps men develop new behaviors by practicing self-awareness and communication skills. VIDEO -- Realistic dramas and role plays help men and their families learn the roots of abusive behavior and how to practice alternatives to violence.

This breakthrough handbook for mental health professionals and educators offers practical, hands-on information for conducting assessments and providing treatments that take the entire family system into account. Rich with research that shows women are abusive within relationships at rates comparable to men, the book eschews the field's reliance on traditional domestic violence theory and treatment, which favors violence interventions for men and victim services for women and ignores the dynamics of the majority of violent relationships. Thus, the author identifies and measures protocols that help practitioners make accurate assessments for both men and women and then carefully selects the treatment modality and curricula for group, couples, and/or individual work that will help clients break their particular cycle of violence while ensuring victim safety.

I Wish the Hitting Would Stop

Gathering of Native Americans (GONA) Facilitator Guide

A Facilitator's Guide

A Training Process for Community Activists

A Step-by-step Guide to Facilitating Men's Domestic Abuse Groups

Facilitator Guide - 26 Week Curriculum

This is a forty-hour, evidence-based, gender-responsive, trauma-informed treatment program specifically developed for women who have difficulty managing anger. The curriculum uses a Social-Ecological Model to understand anger and violence. This four-level model considers the complex interplay between individual, relationship, community, and societal factors. It addresses the factors that put people at risk for experiencing overwhelming feelings of anger and perpetrating assaultive acts or destruction of property. This model is used by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention and was used in the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) research on women in prison.

This clinician's manual and workbook were developed to provide alternatives in the efforts to reduce the national epidemic of spouse/partner maltreatment. Geffner and Mantooth describe a model incorporating several theories and approaches of psychotherapy, while focusing on abuse as a primary issue. The program and techniques have been used and improved for more than 15 years in programs across the country. The clinician will receive a comprehensive intervention program that includes 26 weekly sessions that address how to initiate the foundations for a therapeutic relationship; communicate and express feelings; teach self-management and assertiveness techniques; discuss intimacy issues; and implement a relapse prevention program. Each session contains brief intervention techniques, handouts, and homework assignments. The advantage of this approach is its flexibility. Modifications to the order in which the sessions are conducted can be made by trained clinicians to fit the needs of their clients.

This is a guide book for facilitators of domestic violence 52 week programs. The laws related to the treatment programs and 52 weeks of lessons are included.

Another Way... Choosing to Change

Professional Facilitator's Guide: the Youth Initiative

The Complete Paperwork Resource for Treating Clients with Addictions

Facilitator's Guide

Another Way...Choosing to Change-Participant's Handbook

Spanish Healing Teens' Wounds of Trauma Facilitator Guide

A Program for Women Participant Workbook

The latest theory, research, and practice information for familytherapy: The last twenty years have seen an explosion of new, innovative, and empirically supported therapeutic approaches for treatingfamilies. Mental health professionals working with families todayapply a wide range of approaches to a variety of situations andclients using techniques based on their clinically and empiricallyproven effectiveness, their focus on specific individual andrelational disorders, their applicability in various contexts, and their prominence in the field. In this accessible and comprehensive text, each chapter coverspecific problems, the theoretical and practical elements of threatment approach, recommended intervention strategies, specialconsiderations, supporting research, and clinical examples. Thecontributors provide step-by-step guidelines for implementing theapproaches described and discuss particular issues that arise indifferent couple, family, and cultural contexts. Handbook of Clinical Family Therapy covers treatment strategiesfor the most common problems encountered in family therapy,including: Domestic violence Adolescent defiance, anxiety, and depression Trauma-induced problems Stepfamily conflicts ADHD disorder Substance abuse in adults and adolescents Couple conflict and divorce Chronic illness A detailed reference for today's best treatment strategies, theHandbook of Clinical Family Therapy brings together the toppractitioners and scholars to produce an innovative anduser-friendly guide for clinicians and students alike.

TACT (Teens and Conflict Together) is a six-session, skills based program designed for facilitation by professionals in school and community systems who work with youth. TACT (Teens and Conflict Together) is structured to provide youth with opportunities for reflection of personal communication styles, conflict management styles and beliefs about their relationships with each other, their peers and the world around them. Skills are presented using fun and interactive games to both encourage and empower youth to employ a problem solving process for conflict management and conflict resolution.

Foundations for Violence-Free Living: A Step-by-Step Guide to Facilitating Men's Domestic Abuse Groups gives you everything you need to facilitate effective men's domestic abuse groups. Whether you want to start a group or enhance your current program, this guide and participant's workbook provide complete tools for facilitating a domestic abuse treatment program with proven success. Foundations for Violence-Free Living distills the best of fifteen years of experience by one of the nation's largest, most comprehensive domestic abuse programs. This practical guide includes: twenty-nine activities accompanied by forty-nine worksheets--pick and choose the activities and worksheets that best fit your clientele, your program, and the strengths of your facilitators extensive preparation for each activity, including how to present it, what worksheets are required, and most important, the issues each activity is likely to raise and how to respond to them proven techniques for reversing denial and blaming, changing the behavior of resistant clients, dealing with chemical use in group, serving a diverse clientele, and other special issues guidelines for program consistency, from a philosophy of violence, to intake and individual counseling, to recommended policies and releases, to suggestions for facilitating groups how to facilitate, and why we recommend a male/female facilitation team. The activities in this guide were developed by the staff of the Amherst H. Wilder Foundation Community Assistance Program, located in St. Paul, Minnesota.

Problem Solving Mediation Training: Facilitator's Guide

A Domestic Violence Education Program for Older Elementary Age Children. Facilitator's guide

Peace and Good

Guide For Domestic Violence Program Facilitators

From the Inside Out Facilitator's Guide - Item 1212

Are You Listening? How to Ask Questions on Domestic Violence

Foundations for Violence-free Living

Another Way...Choosing to Change: Facilitator Guide - Women's Edition provides facilitators with a strengths-based approach and research-based program for intervening with women who have used force against their intimate partners. The sessions address gender-specific treatment needs using evidence-based clinical interventions and adult learning principles. Drawing from relational theory principles, the program is designed to guide participants toward healthy self-reflection and increased personal resiliency, while they explore safe and nonviolent relationship responses. Unlike many current models for abuser intervention programs, this program recognizes the value of trauma recovery, the need for emotional regulation, and cognitive restructuring as the participants learn to identify and employ the non-violent options available to them. The guide progresses in tandem with the 52-week Participant's Handbook, providing facilitators with step-by-step instructions, suggested timeframes, and key strategies so they can confidently and competently lead participants through each lesson and each critical stage of intervention and recovery. Another Way...Choosing to Change is an exemplary curriculum to help women develop deeper connection, cultivate opportunities to foster healthy interdependence in their relationships, and embrace non-violent solutions. Learn more about the Another Way...Choosing to Change curriculum and Nada Yorke's unique approach.

Beyond Violence: A Prevention Program for Women is a help women, evidence-based, gender-responsive, trauma-informed treatment program specifically developed for women who have committed a violent crime and are incarcerated. This program offers counselors, mental health professionals, and program administrators the tools they need to implement a gender-responsive, trauma-informed treatment program within the criminal justice system. This Participant Workbook helps participants understand the relationships between thoughts, feelings, and behaviors; learn new skills, including communication, conflict resolution, decision making, and calming soothing techniques; and become part of a group of women working to create a less violent world.

This sourcebook has been successful in training facilitators to effectively employ the Anderson & Anderson domestic violence curriculum. This comprehensive manual provides an historical perspective for the Anderson & Anderson curriculum in addition to critical information regarding interviewing skills, race, ethnicity, culture and gender issues that can make the difference between effective and ineffective treatment of this and other populations. Unlike "A Ray of Hope," which is contained in the facilitator's guide, this publication provides a framework for understanding the treatment goals for domestic violence group participants to effectively move them from lives of abusive behavior to lives consisting of healthy forms of interaction and communication. This publication is useful for all helping professionals who are assisting their clients to maintain control over their abusive behavior, to better communicate and reduce stress while exercising control over their lives.

A Trauma-Focused Curriculum for Justice-involved Youth

Intersectionality and Culturally Competent Practice

How to Ask the Right Questions and Recognize Abuse-- Another Way to Save a Life

Gender Inclusive Treatment of Intimate Partner Abuse

A Ray of Hope Facilitators' Guide

Education Groups for Men Who Batter

The Facilitator's Manual

Another Way...Choosing to Change: Facilitator Guide is a victim-centered, research-informed curriculum that addresses criminogenic risk and needs in order to achieve transformational learning and promote empathy building. The psychoeducational format, which features a trauma-informed approach and uses such promising practices as motivational interviewing and ACEs research, helps practitioners lead groups through an innovative, highly relational, and skills-based batterer intervention program. The facilitator guide begins with a comprehensive overview of the program, including discussions of its philosophy, design, and theoretical framework, as well as implementation strategies and tips for retention. The guide progresses in tandem with the curriculum, providing facilitators with step-by-step instructions, suggested timeframes, and key strategies so they can confidently and competently lead participants through each lesson and each critical stage of intervention and recovery. At the end of each lesson, Facilitator Helps sections provides suggestions for how to explain specific parts of the lesson, references to helpful websites for further research and knowledge building, and cautions about potential issues that may arise during group discussions. Another Way...Choosing to Change is an exemplary curriculum to rehabilitate domestic violence offenders and, in doing so, increase safety and empathy for victims of violence. Learn more about the Another Way...Choosing to Change curriculum and Nada Yorke's unique approach. Nada J. Yorke is a Licensed Clinical Social Worker, the co-owner of Yorke Consulting, and the manager of Correctional Counseling for Change, which provides assistance to individuals and organizations who desire to implement batterer intervention programming within correctional and rehabilitation centers. With over 35 years in the criminal justice field, Nada is a retired probation officer, former victim advocate, published researcher and author, and recognized court expert in domestic violence, having testified in over 25 trials. She holds a master's degree in social work from California State University at Bakersfield.

Guide For Domestic Violence Program FacilitatorsLulu.com

Despite the prevalence of battered women in the medical setting, many physicians fail to correctly identify and refer abused patients. The introductory chapter of this book discusses definitions of domestic violence, issues of power and control, the prevalence of the problem, the effect of domestic violence on the medical system, and reasons why physicians fail to identify abuse. The profile of domestic violence victims is discussed in terms of gender, ethnic and socioeconomic status, marital status, personality traits, sexual orientation, pregnancy, disabilities, immigration status, use of alcohol and drugs, family history, relationship variables, and abuse of children. Issues pertaining to abusers discussed here include substance abuse, critical risk factors, dominance of men over women, and secrecy and denial. Recognition of domestic violence can be improved through patient history and demeanor, companion's behavior, direct questioning, routine screening, and physical examination. When abuse is detected, the physician has many avenues for action: referrals to services and shelters, documentation, treatment, counseling, legal services, and follow-up care. Specific legal issues may include mandatory reporting, duty to warn, liability for reporting, and legal options for the patient. The book discusses how the medical community can prepare itself for an optimal response to domestic violence.

Men's Work Facilitator's Guide

Rethinking Domestic Violence

The Physician's Guide to Domestic Violence

Handbook of Clinical Family Therapy

My Harmony

Therapy Group Activities for Children Victims of Family Violence. Facilitator's guide

Handouts and Homework for 52-Week Domestic Violence Program

Our teens need help. The trauma they endure and the pressures they live with threaten their lives every day. Many suffer at the hands of abusers, face neglect and abandonment, struggle with conditions of poverty and poor living conditions, and live with the realities of violence and domestic abuse. How can we help teens? By offering healing in the name of Jesus. This book is the facilitator manual for "Life Hurts. Love Heals," a program that provides an experiential approach to healing wounded hearts and finding hope together. This manual can be used to help structure a trauma healing ministry in the church. It is designed for those who work with youth and are familiar with their needs and lifestyles.

Sexual assault and abuse have been called a worldwide epidemic by the World Health Organization, but many clinicians are reluctant to tackle this topic due to their own lack of knowledge or personal anxieties. In this ground-breaking workbook replete with dramatic examples, Denise Lang-Grant, licensed trauma therapist and award-winning author, and Irene Colucci-Lebbad, a licensed clinical social worker with an extensive background in sexual and domestic violence, combine fifteen years of experience in running groups for survivors of sexual violence to present the how-tos of running a group for adults, intended to move group members from crisis to stabilization to integration. Keeping in mind that both experienced and novice group leaders will find this guide useful, they have included evidence-based techniques that will fit easily into any theoretical orientation and practice. This guide is a must-have for any clinician, university, rape crisis center, or legal entity dealing with sexual violence. No More Secrets is a step-by-step professional guide, which can assist mental health practitioners to offer hope and healing for those who have been victims of sexual abuse. The authors write about sexual abuse with faith in the power of individuals to overcome their experiences and become strengthened in the process. The chapters are written in a clear, concise, well-organized manner and can easily be incorporated into a practitioners skill set or theoretical orientation. This is an important and necessary guide that deserves a wide readership. Luba Shagawat, Distinguished Fellow of the National Academies of Practice and former President of the NJ Society of Social Workers Being a child sexual abuse survivor and a former Penn State football athlete who loves the school and the program, I spent years trying to cope with my abuse through drugs and alcohol. I was fortunate enough to finally find this group program, and I reaped the benefits. I believe that the program offered in No More Secrets is a wonderful resource and should be utilized by therapists, university training programs, and law enforcement agencies to sensitize them to the challenges faced by all survivors of sexual violence. Anthony Gordon, board member for Defend A Child

"Peace and Paymar are right on target again. Their analysis of battering is excellent and their approach...is straightforward, useful and clear. [The book] tells you what to do with abusive men and how to do it well. [The authors] challenge practitioners to do their work in a manner that is compassionate yet never colluding. Accountability and safety to battered women and creating a process of change for abusive men are central to its success." --Susan Schechter, author of Women and Male Violence "Drawing upon years of experience...Pence and Paymar have written a practical and conceptually sound curriculum for batterers' groups. This book offers an effective guide to both the beginning facilitator and the experienced clinician for engaging batterers in the lifelong process of changing their intimate relationships, from those based on coercive control to those based on equality. [They] accomplish this task without compromising their commitment to advocacy with battered women." --Anne L. Ganley, PhD, Domestic Violence Program Seattle Veterans Administration Medical Center "Presents the most comprehensive and successful methods for working with men who batter. Mixing discussion, self-analysis and opportunities for learning new behaviors, this well-mapped-out intervention strategy helps counselors hold men accountable while teaching non-abusive behaviors." --Fernando Merderos, Executive Director of Common Purpose, Boston, MA "Education Groups for Men Who Batter is a curriculum and a methodology which unequivocally identifies the exercise of violent and coercive tactics against women in intimate relationships as intentional, strategic behavior....[It] is an essential training tool for all actors in the justice and human services systems. Only when tactics of control are seen as intentional intimate terrorism can these systems construct responses effectively to end the violence.i --Barbara J. Hart, Esq., Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence "Presents the leading approach to undoing men's abuse of women...The Duluth Model has pioneered an approach based on the experiences of abused women and consequently tailored to their circumstances. It tackles the social dimensions of woman abuse more directly and decisively than any of the psychological or skill-building approaches circulating in the field." -- Edward W. Gondolf, author of Men Who Batter, Battered Women as Survivors, and Psychiatric Response to Family Violence "The Duluth Model has inspired activists all over the world, and its principles are being followed in programs in several countries. We predict that this book will become the standard text for those who work with men who batter." --Rebecca

Emerson Dobash and Russell P. Dobash authors of Violence Against Wives; Women, Violence and Social Change; and Women Viewing Violence

Ending Spouse/Partner Abuse

A Complete Counseling Plan for Breaking the Cycle of Male Violence

Breaking Free: A facilitator's guide to participatory action research practice

A Workshop for Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence. Facilitator guide

A Comprehensive Approach

Department of Defense Authorization for Appropriations for Fiscal Year 2010: Personnel

Facilitator Guide

The goal of any batterer intervention program is to stop violent behaviors; but just as important is the transformation of the participant's thoughts, feelings and behaviors in order to eliminate all forms of abuse in their interpersonal relationships. Utilizing a strengths-based, cognitive-behavioral, and solution-focused approach, this trauma-informed, 52-week batterer intervention curriculum and program design addresses mindfulness, attachment issues; and when used as designed, the facilitator will be able to see higher retention rates and identifiable changes in participants' thoughts, feelings and behaviors. This unique program design incorporates adult learning principles and activities to impart information which will educate the participant on what constitutes abusive behaviors; stimulate introspection; promote personal responsibility for abusive behaviors, and; teach non-violent conflict resolution. Some of the sessions are packed with activity and discussion, while others are designed to stimulate deeper introspection. This design helps in keeping the participant's interest and often they don't even realize that two-hours has elapsed. Ultimately, it is anticipated that the participant will develop and demonstrate empathy for those they have victimized. This material and program design has been praised by participants for what they have learned; by their family members for the positive changes in behaviors and responses to conflict; and by program facilitators who have found the process stimulating and rewarding. This handbook is designed to accompany the "Another Way...Choosing to Change- Facilitator Guide" Discounts for multiple purchases--contact www.yorkeconsulting.com for more information."

Opens with an overview of intersectionality, culturally competent practice and domestic violence and basic practice strategies, such as universal screening, risk assessment and safety planning.

All of the requisite forms addiction treatment professionalsneed-a crucial time-saver in today's healthcare system Treating addiction in today's healthcare environment means thatmental health professionals must manage an imposing amount ofpaperwork. Government and private grant funding, insurance andbenefits programs, regulatory compliance, and the need for data ontreatment effectiveness (evidence-based treatment) all requireproper documentation. If these forms are missing, the results canrange from bureaucratic headaches to problems serious enough toclose a practice. Now fully updated and revised, The Addiction Counselor'sDocumentation Sourcebook: The Complete Paperwork Resource forTreating Clients with Additions, Second Edition provides themost useful and current forms for accurate and comprehensivedocumentation and record keeping. These ready-to-use forms willsave you and your practice hours that would otherwise be spentcreating and collating them, freeing you to devote more energy tothe important matters of treatment. A companion CD-ROM includes alldocuments in Word format so you can customize them according tothe unique needs of your practice. Covering every aspect of mental health practice for addictiontreatment, this fully revised Second Edition also includes: Critical forms updated to help providers achieve HIPAA, JCRAH, and CARF compliance Unique handouts, exercises, and facilitator guides for use inindividual and group therapy A comprehensive CD-ROM featuring all forms in Word format, aswell as PowerPoint slideshows for every psychoeducationalpresentation in the book The Addiction Counselor's Documentation Sourcebook, SecondEdition is an essential timesaving resource that allows anyprofessional practicing or working in the field of addictiontreatment the freedom to give more of their time and energy to thepeople they serve.

Marriage in the Lord, Facilitator's Guide

Journey to Safety

The Addiction Counselor's Documentation Sourcebook

Far from love

Helping Men End Domestic Abuse

