You are a leader. Even if you don't realize it, you inherently have influence on your world and the people around you. Bigger Than Leadership: Stories of Influence, Intention, and Inspiration explores what it means to be an intentional everyday leader. Through more than eighty-five individual stories, including those of John Norlin, Houston Kraft, and Drew Dudley, author Brittany Do shows us: How being your authentic self, living uncomfortably, and taking chances actually pays off in the end How being intentional, in even the smallest of positive actions, has more impact than you may originally think How you can work collectively with others for the benefit of all Life and leadership are intertwined, even in the often small, mundane moments. Although every human's journey to leadership is unique as we flow in and out of each other's lives, there is much to learn from our peers. Do's Bigger Than Leadership aims to arm readers with a diverse arsenal of inspiration and show how you, yes you, are a leader.
