The book Working on the Wild Side is collection of sixty short stories about the author's twenty-five-year career as a wildlife officer. The focus on the humorous things he encountered over the years. Instead of the blood and guts stories, it is more about the funny things he encountered.

The Muncie 4-speeds, M20, M21, and M22 are some of the most popular manual transmissions ever made and continue to be incredibly popular. The Muncie was the top high-performance manual transmission GM offered in its muscle cars of the 60s and early 70s. It was installed in cars like the Chevelle, Buick GS, Pontiac GTO, Olds Cutlass, and many other classic cars. Many owners want to retain the original transmission in their cars to maintain its value. Transmission expert and veteran author Paul Cangialosi has created an indispensable reference to Muncie 4-speed manual transmissions that takes you through each crucial stage of the rebuild process. Comprehensive ID information is provided, so you can positively identify the case and related parts. It discusses available models, parts options, and gearbox cases. Most important, it shows how to completely disassemble the transmission, identify wear and damage, select the best parts, and complete the rebuild. It also explains how to choose the ideal gear ratio for a particular application. Various high-performance and racing setups are also shown, including essential modifications, gun drilling the shafts, cutting down the housing to remove weight, and achieving race-specific clearances. Muncie 4-speeds need rebuilding after many miles of service and extreme use. In fact, when a muscle car owner builds a high-performance engine that far exceeds stock horsepower, a stronger high-performance transmission is needed to accommodate this torque and horsepower increase. No other book goes into this much detail on the identification of the Muncie 4-speed manual transmission, parts, selection of gear ratios, and the rebuild process.

Riley Blakely and the remainder of Grandview High's french class is heading out on a school trip to Paris. The three weeks in Paris are supposed to be an 'educational opportunity' for this lot. But of course, these hormonal teenagers just cannot abide by the rules. The one rule set by their lovely Mr. Walker: You cannot room with somebody of the opposite gender. So what does this french class do? Room with the opposite gender, with a funny way of picking roommates. Chit picking. Because hormonal teenagers can just never get enough. Insert Asher West. Her not so secret annoying hater. It's a hate-hate relationship. He's the guy who picked Riley's name. He's the most popular guy in the freaking school and Riley? Not so much. Put the two together and you'll get a whole lot of arguments and awkward moments. They're roommates and they're stuck in Paris, the city of love and the city of lights
