excellent anti-fraud resource for those professionals charged with the responsibility of detecting, investigating, and preventing fraud. I also highly recommend it to educators as a prospective textbook for a semester-long course in macro fraud examination." —Thomas Buckhoff, PhD, CPA, CFE, Associate Professor of Forensic Accounting, Georgia Southern University, and Principal, FraudWise, LLC

"This book, better than any other in print, hits the subject areas I cover in my fraud examination and forensic accounting class. The authors have done a great job of presenting complicated terms and techniques in a manner for students to understand. I particularly like the presentation of a fraud's as each new transaction is presented in the text. Source documents provide the objective evidence for journalizing every transaction, and are now included in the working papers for selected end of chapter problems. T accounts are always used to analyze transactions into debit and credit parts to increase student comprehension of journalizing transactions. Illustrations are consistently placed at the top of the page and include step-by-step instructions. Concepts are reinforced through descriptive text to provide complete accounting instruction. Each chapter is divided into three or four lessons with corresponding assessment activities right at the point of use. In addition, several short application problems at the

one of the books of accounts which records every business transaction relating to all the accounting items) / There are space for Date, Description, Account#, Debit(-), Credit(+), Page / Come with Chart of accounts (is a list of account names with corresponding account numbers) / Checking Account Ledger, Accounting Ledger, Daily Records Every Business Transaction Before It Flows To The Classification of Transactions In Accountancy (First Accounting Book Before General Ledger) / Size 8.5 x11 / NOTE: Differences Between GENERAL JOURANL vs GENERAL LEDGER: The general journal is a catch-all book of accounts where initial entry of the business transaction is recorded for the first time, in chronological order, making general journal an excellent place to review accounting transactions. The general ledger is more of a summary at the account level of every business transaction which comes from various journals containing chronological accounting entries. This information entered into the journal and summarised into the ledger is then aggregated further into a trial balance, which is used to generate the financial statements of the business entity. // GENERAL JOURNAL vs

GENERAL LEDGER (Comparison Table)1.

MeaningJournal is the first entry of financial transaction that is rightly summarized and recorded as per the double entry system.Ledger is recorded from the journal in a "T" format and is the source of trial balance, income statement, and balance sheet.2.

Which is more important?Journal is more important than ledger because if it is done wrong, ledger can't be done right.Ledger is dependent upon the correctness of a journal because if the journal is recorded right, the ledger will follow along.3. FormatThe format of a journal is simple and we include date, particulars, ledger folio, debit amount and credit amount. The format of the ledger is "T" format where we use date, particulars, and amount in each side. 4. Journal is called "book of original entry". Ledger is called "book of second entry". 5. An act of recording the act of journaling is called journalizing. The act of ledgering is called posting. 6. How is the entry recorded? In a journal, the entry is recorded as per the date of the transaction. In ledger, the entry is recorded account-wise. 7. Narration In a journal, the narration is must to understand the nature of entry. In ledger, the narration is optional. 8. Necessity of balancingBalancing is not required in journal.Balancing is mandatory in ledger.

The purpose of this research is to investigate stereotypes as a way of understanding intense interpersonal and inter-group conflict between American Jews and Israeli immigrants living in the larger Jewish community of South Florida. The reasons for this inter-group conflict make for a complicated story. The major assumption being made here is that the conflict can be seen in the stereotypes, prejudices and impressions held by these two groups about themselves and each other. This study also seeks to determine the dominant stereotypes of Israeli immigrants to the U.S., or Yordim, to reach some understanding of the conflict between Yordim and American Jews.
