Handel's
English church
music spans the
complete period
of his active career in London: his first anthem
and the Utrecht

Te Deum were composed soon after his arrival in London, and his last works nearly 40 years later. The repertory, which includes the Coronation Anthem Zadok the

Priest, forms
one of the most impressive and
engaging areas
of Baroque
church music.
Most of it was stimulated by

contact with the opera stars

with whom he worked in the

the first full-

Handel's

music. As well as dealing with the many aspects of the compositions themselves, it traces the background to the diverse items in the repertory, which relates directly to Handel's constant but changing relationship with the Hanoverian British royal family, and was affected by political and dynastic events. It also examines the

circumstances
of Handel's
performances,
the building
which (unlike his theatres)
still survives
in London
today.
