You're just 10% human. This book is a summary of "10% Human: How Your Body's Microbes Hold the Key to Health and Happiness," by Alanna Collen. There are over 100 trillion microbes living in your body. They live on your skin, in your mouth, nose, ears, esophagus, stomach, and your gut. These microbes are not a random mix of species. They own special genes that carry out many metabolic and protective functions for your body, extending the functions of human genes. Scientists call this dynamic community of microbes the microbiota and the totality of their genes the microbiome. In 10% Human, biologist Alanna Collen shows how this community of microbes influences our weight, our immune system, and our mental health. Many modern diseases--obesity, autism, mental illness, digestive disorders, allergies, autoimmune diseases--arise because we have an unhealthy microbiota. The good news is, unlike human genes, we can change our microbiome for the better. Read this revelatory and indispensable guide to the human microbiome. This guide includes: * Book Summary--helps you understand the key concepts. * Online Videos--cover the concepts in more depth. Value-added from this guide: * Save time * Understand key concepts * Expand your knowledge

Study Guide for Human Information Processing is designed to accompany Lindsay and Norman's Human Information Processing (HIP). Problems and questions range from ones that are relatively easy to several that are somewhat difficult. This variation is intentional; the easy exercises explain and demonstrate the principles introduced in HIP, and the harder problems challenge students to apply those principles to new areas. Much of this study guide relies on the process of model building to review and expand on the principles in the text. Models will be proposed to explain experimental results. By using models the goal is to help students develop the ability to find truly significant patterns of results. This ability involves a critical attitude toward any experiment. For many of the models proposed, a joint search is conducted with students to discover the fatal flaws in the models. Students are also encouraged to propose models of their own, and to design experiments to test them
