Psychologist is not another prescriptive, how-to guide on parenting. The last thing we need is another parenting book lining the shelves promising parental success if we apply the correct mathematical formula to our babies. It's narrated by a Child Psychologist who thought she had all the answers to parenting until she became one herself. She exposes her failures unapologetically in an account that is both hilarious and heartbreaking. She makes sense of the emotional extremes of motherhood and shows how seemingly contradictory emotions about motherhood can co-exist. Each chapter tackles a specific parenting topic ranging from dealing with infant sleep problems to dispelling some of the common myths associated with autism. The Mommy Psychologist doesn't give mother the illusion that if they apply certain steps to a problem they will get a specific result. Instead, mothers are encouraged to view parenting through the lens of self empowerment and suggestions are provided to help them use the information they have at their disposal, but mostly, to feel better about themselves. Mothers are urged to do what feels right for them in any given parenting situation. It is written with a voice that marries education with the practical experience only gained through the act of being a mother.
