The mission of the International Journal of Educational Reform (IJER) is to keep readers up-to-date with worldwide developments in education reform by providing scholarly information and practical analysis from recognized international authorities. As the only peer-reviewed scholarly publication that combines authors' voices without regard for the political affiliations perspectives, or research methodologies, IJER provides readers with a balanced view of all sides of the political and educational mainstream. To this end, IJER includes, but is not limited to, inquiry based and opinion pieces on developments in such areas as policy, administration, curriculum, instruction, law, and research. IJER should thus be of interest to professional educators with decision-making roles and policymakers at all levels turn since it provides a broad-based conversation between and among policymakers, practitioners, and academicians about reform goals, objectives, and methods for success throughout the world. Readers can call on IJER to learn from an international group of reform implementers by discovering what they can do that has actually worked. IJER can also help readers to understand the pitfalls of current reforms in order to avoid making similar mistakes. Finally, it is the mission of IJER to help readers to learn about key issues in school reform from movers and shakers who help to study and shape the power base directing educational reform in the U.S. and the world.

Dear reader, I am sure that the Iguazu National Park is among the tourist places where the natural beauty most enchanted me. Even after visiting it for the second time, the excitement is still the same. This majestic park is the most visited in Argentina and is among the three most visited tourist spots in Brazil. It is among the most well-classified tourist sites as World Heritage Site. Just visit it to understand these numbers. Its beauty may not be described through words or photos. It is necessary to be there and feel, to live the essence of that place. Iguazu River is huge, noisy and is characterized by numerous waterfalls which are simply fantastic. In the second half of the book will be presenting to you the bird park that is located in Brazil near the Iguassu National Park. The bird park is a must-see tourist spot for nature lovers. I hope this book can give you an idea of the magic of that place. I hope you can one day visit and share the same opinion.

This report considers the biological and behavioral mechanisms that may underlie the pathogenicity of tobacco smoke. Many Surgeon General's reports have considered research findings on mechanisms in assessing the biological plausibility of associations observed in epidemiologic studies. Mechanisms of disease are important because they may provide plausibility, which is one of the guideline criteria for assessing evidence on causation. This report specifically reviews the evidence on the potential mechanisms by which smoking causes diseases and considers whether a mechanism is likely to be operative in the production of human disease by tobacco smoke. This evidence is relevant to understanding how smoking causes disease, to identifying those who may be particularly susceptible, and to assessing the potential risks of tobacco products.
