What should happen
when doctors and
parents disagree
about what would be best for a child?

When should courts
become involved?

Should life support
be stopped against parents' wishes?

The case of Charlie Gard, reached global attention in 2017. It led to widespread debate about the ethics of disagreements between doctors and parents, about the place of the law in such disputes, and about the variation use the Gard case as a springboard to a wider discussion about the rights of parents, the harms of treatment, and the vital issue of limited resources. They discuss other prominent UK and international cases of disagreement and conflict. From opposite sides of the debate Wilkinson

and Savulescu
provocatively
outline the strongest
arguments in favour
of and against treatment. They analyse some of the distinctive and
challenging features

of treatment disputes
in the 21st century
and argue that disagreement about
controversial ethical
