

Love Through A Strangers Eyes

This first collection by award-winning author Kelly Link takes fairy tales and cautionary tales, dictators and extraterrestrials, amnesiacs and honeymooners, revenants and readers alike, on a voyage into new, strange, and wonderful territory. The girl detective must go to the underworld to solve the case of the tap-dancing bank robbers. A librarian falls in love with a girl whose father collects artificial noses. A dead man posts letters home to his estranged wife. Two women named Louise begin a series of consecutive love affairs with a string of cellists. A newly married couple become participants in an apocalyptic beauty pageant. Sexy blond aliens invade New York City. A young girl learns how to make herself disappear. These eleven extraordinary stories are quirky, spooky, and smart. They all have happy endings. Every story contains a secret prize. Each story was written especially for you.

Amanda Connelly is a very special woman in many ways. She is a brilliant research scientist immersed in her work until a monster with extreme powers takes control of her mind. The monster makes her watch through his eyes as he performs gruesome murders. The monster is obsessed with finding Amanda and destroying her and everyone she loves. Amanda must take the fight to him before he can kill everyone she loves and in doing so; she finds a new type of love she has never experienced, the love of a man. The monster is determined to destroy this and Amanda. Can Amanda save the love of her life, everyone else she holds dear, and herself? Find out if she is monster enough to stop this beast.

An astonishing discovery! Available for the first time in 125 years, the Lost Novels Of Nellie Bly! Pioneering undercover journalist Nellie Bly is rightly famous for exposing society's ills. From brutal insane asylums to corrupt politicians, she exposed all manner of frauds and charlatans. She was also a skilled interviewer and reporter. What no one has known was that she was also a novelist. This is because, of the twelve novels Bly wrote between 1889 and 1895, eleven of have been lost. Until now. Newly discovered by author David Blixt (What Girls Are Good For, The Master Of Verona), Nellie Bly's lost works of fiction are now available for the first time! Complete with the original artwork! These are The Lost Novels of Nellie Bly! Bly's wildest novel! An accidental meeting with a stranger on a street car has Kit Harrington head-over-heels in love. She only has one trouble—she doesn't know who he is! Now, abandoned by her foster-sister and bereft by the loss of her mother, Kit sets out on a quest to discover the mystery man's identity and win his love—by whatever means necessary! What ensues is a series of ever-escalating escapades, as Kit poses as a ghost, a reporter, a fortune-teller, an actress, a train engineer, a messenger boy, a poker player, a maid, and an opium fiend, all to gain access to her beloved Howell Humphrey, millionaire man-about-town. Yet Kit never imagined her rival for Howell's affections would be her own foster-sister, Vida! Meanwhile Howell's best friend has in turn fallen for Kit, as much in love with a stranger as Kit herself! A novel filled with desperate acts, kidnapping, drowning, disease, train derailments, even a hurricane, Kit braves it all, determined to walk through fire and water to win him. All because she is . . . In Love With A Stranger! Bonus: Includes the articles that inspired the novel!

Stopping in place, she felt herself spinning as if she were drunk. Katie saw his face and shook even more. A man that would date a woman his age for many years would suddenly decide one day to do the unthinkable. Taking a sixteen-year-old girl for what she thought would be an errand would turn out to be a nightmare only several minutes later. Having a bag full of fantasies, the man would rape her several times before realizing what he was doing was wrong. Sparing her life, he would drive her home as if he did nothing wrong. Everyone thought that Katie had everything. She was a successful author. Her photography business was taking off. Her modeling career was making a come back. Her three grown children were happy and healthy, and all of her employees loved and respected her. But whenever a door slammed, Katie would see horrible visions of past crimes. After each of these flashbacks, she was left a shaking, pale puddle on the floor. Katie tried to convince herself that these flashbacks would go away with time; instead, they grew more powerful and her family was growing increasingly worried. On top of all of this, Katie met the man of her dreams while on vacation in Florida. Can she keep everything under control, or will Katie's chaotic world fall apart? Will the man of her dreams be scared off by her troubled psyche? Will her revived modeling career be crushed?

Georg Walther Groddeck was born in Germany in 1866. Although he spent his early years as a writer—he produced a novel, poetry, and a volume of art criticism—he became a doctor in middle life and, from that point on, thought of himself as healer rather than artist. He spent the remainder of his life as director of a clinic at Baden-Baden, and continued to write, but his plan for reviewing every aspect of knowledge in terms of the hypothesis presented in The Book of the It was cut short by his death in 1934. His other books, The World of Man, The Unknown Self, and Exploring the Unconscious, are collections of Groddeck's writings on science, cosmology, and art.

This clear, student-friendly text offers a step-by-step introduction to the use of SPSS - easily the most widely used data analysis computer package in the social sciences. Supported by four datasets taken from the well-known British Social Attitudes Survey on the topics crime, health, politics and poverty, it offers an eminently practical approach to its subject, while still setting its explanation of statistical procedures within the wider social research context.

A Stranger in My Bed takes you inside Debbie Sprague's life for an intimate view of a love story disrupted by the invasion of PTSD—thirty years after the Vietnam War. The cycle moves from love to fear, anger, and despair. Stories unfold of her husband's battle with PTSD, displaying typical behaviors, triggers, and moods. Those familiar with this world will be comforted: "That sounds just like my life, and I thought I was the only one." Others will find a new awareness: "I had no idea it was like that." You will watch a family and marriage almost be destroyed by the contagious effects of PTSD. Yes, PTSD is "contagious"—the family can take on the symptoms, even to the point of full-blown PTSD. Debbie was one of those people. As Debbie began to discover resources and find solutions for her problems, she realized sharing those solutions was her life purpose—what she had been preparing for her entire life. Debbie's gift to you is A Stranger in My Bed: 8 Steps to Taking Your Life Back From The Contagious Effects Of Your Veteran's Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder.

"Considering the "stranger" as a figure of ambiguity, Sylvie Romanowski explains why the genre was so useful to the Enlightenment question of why showing ambiguous strangers is important in that period is addressed in the book's introduction by setting Enlightenment in the historical context of the seventeenth century. Romanowski then examines Montaigne's "Des Cannibales" and how these first "outsiders" relate to their eighteenth-century successors. She next considers Montesquieu's Lettres persanes and studying the voices of the men, the women, and the eunuchs. She also studies other examples of the genre."--Jacket.

A STORY SET IN SOUTHERN AFRICA ABOUT EVERYTHING? YES EVERYTHING! IT IS A MIX OF FAMILY, ADVENTURE, ROMANCE, PAIN, HAPPINESS, LOVE AND THE NATURE OF "PERSPECTIVE" WHERE, FOR EXAMPLE, DARKNESS IS PERCEIVED AS A CAUSE FOR RECOGNISING AND VALUING LIGHT! YOU COULD SAY IT IS A MIX OF STORIES WHICH ILLUSTRATE THE FACT THAT IT IS ALWAYS THE 'CAUSE' WHICH BRINGS INTO BEING EVERYTHING THAT IS!WHAT YOU READ IN THIS BOOK DERIVES FROM TRUE INCIDENTS SPICED WITH POETIC LICENCE WHEREVER DEEMED NECESSARY. THE PLACES SUCH AS COUNTRIES, TOWNS, CAMPS AND COUNTRYSIDES ARE REAL BUT THE NAMES OF THE CHARACTERS PORTRAYED ARE FICTIONAL AND THE PEOPLE POSING IN THE PHOTOGRAPHS ARE STANDING IN ON BEHALF OF THEM.

The Call from the Stranger on a Journey Home

John Love drifts in on the grey North Sea tide to grace a remote island off the English coast. The stranger effects an immediate messianic glow upon the bladder-wracked community of odds and sods, making disciples of the most unlikely characters.

I went to the land of my youthful dreams. And it was all true! I knew these people. I knew how they lived and died. I walked among their ruins. I ate their food. I viewed the hills and rivers. And so...let me introduce you to some of my brothers and sisters. Separated by generations, yes, but as close to each other as any family could be. They like me, have failed at times. They cried. They prayed. They laughed. They feared. They loved. And this family has room for you, too.

Never give all the heart, for love Will hardly seem worth thinking of To passionate women if it seem Certain, and they never dream That it fades out from kiss to kiss; For everything that's lovely is But a brief, dreamy, kind delight. — W. B. Yeats Down through the millennia the emotion of love has inspired countless poets to great heights of lyrical expression. In this volume readers can sample more than 150 great love poems by English and American poets. Spanning over four centuries of literary creation in the service of amour, the works include a selection of Shakespeare's sonnets, John Donne's "The Ecstasy," William Blake's "The Garden of Love," Robert Burns's "The Banks o'Doon" and "John Anderson My Jo," Lord Byron's "She Walks in Beauty," Edgar Allan Poe's "Annabel Lee," Robert Browning's "Meeting at Night," as well as works by W. B. Yeats, Emily Dickinson, Walt Whitman, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, John Keats, Christopher Marlowe, Ben Jonson, John Milton, Richard Lovelace, Sir John Suckling, Matthew Arnold, A. E. Housman, Edna St. Vincent Millay, and Robert Frost. Includes 2 selections from the Common Core State Standards Initiative: "Sonnet 73" and "Song."

Love's Martyr

'Last week, I was sitting in seven layers (two of them thermal) next to a fire, with a blanket wrapped around me. Now, I am sleeping in kickers and a vest under a fan. Let the mosquitos bite me. They can have me ... Can we live here? ... If I don't become roadkill in the next few days, I'll let you know my thoughts.' In 2009, Sarah and John Alderson quit their full-time jobs in London and headed off, with Alula, their three-year-old daughter, on a global adventure to find a new home. For eight months, they travelled through Australia, the US and Asia

- navigating India with a toddler in a tutu, battling black magic curses in Indonesia and encountering bears in North America - asking themselves one defining question: 'Can We Live Here?' Inspirational, hilarious and fascinating - this is an unforgettable travel memoir and a unique guide to quitting your job, following your dreams and finding your home in a far-flung paradise.

Deep inside each of us a miraculous yearning to be known is sewn into the places God knows best. From the first movements within the womb to the last breath we take, "know me" is whispered throughout our lives. Author Lynn McLeod's, Loving Strangers by God, collides the two adages we were raised with - "stop to smell the flowers" and "don't talk to strangers." Happening amid the impact is where she reveals some of God's most mysterious artwork. What if strangers were actually disguised flowers? What if secrets within us could only be unlocked through their eyes? And what if the beauty in God's creation is especially miraculous when found there? Most of us can point to an unlikely encounter with a stranger that held a powerful new appreciation for how we could be known. Told through short stories, each chapter skillfully studies how God's mighty, powerful, and unfathomable hand touches us with the strangers who cross our path. Among those you will meet are a young girl accepting bubblegum from a stranger who teaches her the protection found in truth, a man in an elevator who redirects the path of a troubled woman as he prays, a millionaire who refuses to allow changes in life change her, a blind author who encourages a clear vision, and a nurse who comforts a critically injured patient by finding her missing dog. In Loving Strangers by God you will begin to recognize not only how strangers impact your own life, but also how as a stranger you impact the lives of others. "I remain confident of this: I will see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living." Psalm 27:13 Now promise me with the loving guidance of our Heavenly Father you will take the very best care . . . then share it! Blessings of light, joy and peace!!!

This book is a cross-cultural, gendered study of both self and curriculum. Initiating a conversation between and among Michel Foucault, Confucius, and Julia Kristeva, it searches for a new (third) cultural and psychic space of transformation and creativity. Weaving together philosophy, psychoanalysis, and autobiography through lived experiences of curriculum, it calls for new configurations of subjectivity at the intersection of culture and gender, through the meeting between selfhood and the human psyche, in the dynamics of the semiotic and the symbolic, and through the interaction between the Western subject and the Chinese self. These multiple layers of inquiry provide unique perspectives for readers who are interested in curriculum theory, feminist analysis, philosophy of education, or East/West dialogue.

Love with the Proper Stranger

Coming soon! A Stranger in the Cove by Rachel Brimble will be available Jan 1, 2018.

At 22, Leslie Morgan Steiner seemed to have it all: a Harvard diploma, a glamorous job at Seventeen magazine, a downtown apartment. Plus a handsome, funny, street-smart boyfriend who adored her. But behind her façade of success, this golden girl had a secret. She'd made a mistake shared by millions: she fell in love with the wrong person. At first Leslie and Conor seemed as perfect as a fairy-tale wedding. Then came the fights she tried to ignore: he pushed her down the stairs of the house they bought together, grinds over her hair as she dressed for a critical job interview, choked her during an argument, and threatened her with a knife. He came close to making good on his threat to kill her. With each attack, Leslie lost another piece of herself. Gripping and terrifying, Crazy Love takes you inside the violent, devastating world of abusive love. Conor said he'd been abused since he was a young boy, and rage danced intimately together in his psyche. Why didn't Leslie leave? She stayed because she loved him. Find out how she fell truly in love – or into a psychological trap. Crazy Love will draw you in -- and never let go.

"This night, when the sky will be veiled by darkness, which will swallow Earth, I'll come to you-not in person but in a dream when I'm free as a bird. I'll come to see you, to please my heart regardless of the fact that my heart doesn't matter to you anymore, because it loves you like it did when it still believed in your love. This night, when the world slips into peaceful sleep, when the stars come out to replace the sun, I'll come to you to please my eyes, which still yearn to see you. Put your arms around me, kiss me in your dream, and deceive my heart again, as you did before. Kiss my eyes to make them believe you're the one who you pretended to be. The world without you is called loneliness, and loneliness is soul pain, yearning for you. If just once I could visit you in a dream, to awaken your sleeping heart, to rekindle the fire that used to burn in it, I would be lonely no more."
