A Diplomatic Spouse in South Asia

Global Nomad provides fascinating glimpses of Dan Mayur's peripatetic life. In a lifetime of exploring the globe, he has traveled to over seventy countries visiting some of them multiple times. He is Indian by birth, American by education, and global nomad by choice. "The world is a mirror," he says, "it reflects you. If you are good, it is good to you." This book is an entertaining and informative rumination of a few of his selected travels covering parts of India, Australia, Bali, Cambodia, Thailand, Egypt, Greece, Russia, Peru, Chile, and Argentina. In the delightful narration of his experiences he creates vivid word pictures in the reader's mind with his trademark lucid language using sensitivity, wit, humor, and an unmistakable philosophic undertone. Global Nomad will appeal to a wide audience of students, teachers, and travelers, indeed anybody with the slightest curiosity about our beautiful world.

An Interpretation of Six Indian Women Educated in the West

Journey Across Time opens a window to life in South Asia, which has changed vastly since Susan Gillerman Boggs began living there as a diplomat's wife in 1985. In a captivating first-person narrative, Boggs takes the reader to remote places, many now closed to visitors. She describes experiences both exotic and hilarious, and adventures impossible to replicate. The author invites us to share the color and pageantry of festivals, religious rites, and parades of caparisoned elephants. She ventured into the Himalayas on perilous roads and was welcomed into a remote land of former headhunters. She dined with royalty and danced with a maharaja, conversed with Mother Teresa, met President Clinton, and appeared in a film starring Pierce Brosnan. She survived floods, political assassinations, and windowshattering bombs. She was bitten by a grouper in a coral lagoon, sneezed on by an elephant, and cornered in a cul-de-sac by angry bulls. Back on the home front, the author chronicles the daily joys and frustrations of diplomatic life with its cast of senior officials, mughals, intellectuals, and colorful characters. With verve and self-deprecating humor, she describes the tribulations of managing a diplomatic household and orchestrating official events despite personal dramas, logistic challenges, and power outages. Join her in a truly remarkable Journey Across Time.

McKay's Guide to the Far East and Hawaii

¿Es posible cambiar el mundo? En una sociedad globalizada ¿es posible ayudar a los más pobres y paliar las desigualdades sociales? A estas preguntas responde este libro aportando para ello la experiencia humana, personal y vital de siete personas: María en África; Belén en Filipinas; Fabiola en el Tibet; Alan en Argentina; Urmi, Alison y David en la India. Todos ellos de sus respectivos países y vidas acomodadas para ayudar a los demás, a los más pobres, al margen de las grandes organizaciones y proyectos personales y modestos. Y además de ayudar, resulta que son más felices y se sienten útiles. Aquí nos enseñan a afrontar la vida de otra manera, contagiándonos de su coraje, mostrándonos las posibilidades que todos tenemos de "comprometernos". Nos demuestran, en fin, que es posible salirse de una rueda que, como dice Rosa Regàs en la última página de este libro, te convierte en un hombre mutilado «y un día te encuentras bajo un cielo estrellado y eres incapaz de verlo». Reflejados en el libro se incorporan voces relevantes de nuestra sociedad como Fernando Savater, Ramiro Calle, Concha García-Campoy, Pilar Javier García Sánchez, Carlos Taibo y Dominique Lapierre. Análisis y testimonio se unen en un libro escrito para no dejar a nadie indiferente a nadie. Un libro para todos aquellos que se sienten comprometidos y que enarbolan la bandera de la libertad, como dice Fernando Savater en su texto, «las personas libres no se preguntan qué va a pasar sino qué van a hacer».
