This book provides a comprehensive introduction to the latest advances in the mathematical theory and computational tools for modeling high-dimensional data drawn from one or multiple low-dimensional subspaces (or manifolds) and potentially corrupted by noise, gross errors, or outliers. This challenging task requires the development of new algebraic, geometric, statistical, and computational methods for efficient and robust estimation and segmentation of one or multiple subspaces. The book also presents interesting real-world applications of these new methods in image processing, image and video segmentation, face recognition and clustering, and hybrid system identification etc. This book is intended to serve as a textbook for graduate students and beginning researchers in data science, machine learning, computer vision, image and signal processing, and systems theory. It contains ample illustrations, examples, and exercises and is made largely self-contained with three Appendices which survey basic concepts and principles from statistics, optimization, and algebraic-geometry used in this book. René Vidal is a Professor of Biomedical Engineering and Director of the Vision Dynamics and Learning Lab at The Johns Hopkins University. Yi Ma is Executive Dean and Professor at the School of Information Science and Technology at ShanghaiTech University. S. Shankar Sastry is Dean of the College of Engineering, Professor of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science and Professor of Bioengineering at the University of California, Berkeley.

In a technology driven world, basic knowledge and awareness about computers is a must if we wish to lead a successful personal and professional life. Today Computer Awareness is considered as an important dimension in most of the competitive examinations like SSC, Bank PO/Clerk & IT Officer, UPSC & other State Level PSCs, etc. Objective questions covering Computer Awareness are asked in a number of competitive exams, so the present book which will act as an Objective Question Bank for Computer Awareness has been prepared keeping in mind the importance of the subject. This book has been divided into 22 chapters covering all the sections of Computer Awareness like Introduction to Computer, Computer Organisation, Input & Output Devices, Memory, Software, MS-Office, Database, Internet & Networking, Computer Security, Digital Electronics, etc. The chapters in the book contain more than 75 tables which will help in better summarization of the important information. With a collection of more than 3500 objective questions, the content covered in the book simplifies the complexities of some of the topics so that the non-computer students feel no difficulty while studying various concepts covered under Computer Awareness section. This book contains the most streamlined collection of objective questions including questions asked in competitive examinations upto 2014. As the book thoroughly covers the Computer Awareness section asked in a number of competitive examinations, it for sure will work as a preparation booster for various competitive examinations like UPSC & State Level PSCs Examinations, SSC, Bank PO/Clerk & IT Officer and other general competitive & recruitment examinations.

This title brings together work on embodiment, action, and the predictive mind. At the core is the vision of human minds as prediction machines - devices that constantly try to stay one step ahead of the breaking waves of sensory stimulation by actively predicting the incoming flow. In every situation we encounter, that complex prediction machinery is already buzzing, proactively trying to anticipate the sensory barrage. The book shows in detail how this strange but potent strategy of self-anticipation ushers perception, understanding, and imagination simultaneously onto the cognitive stage.
