

Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

This research project is an academic research on apologetics, which will be taught in the in the future in local church. Many people in the Christian community may be attending the local church and living in their community that may not clearly understand apologetics. As followers of Christ, in the Christian community and the local church, can everyone defend the Faith and feel comfortable? In the Old and New Testament, God has given His road map for man. He came, lived, was buried, and resurrected for all humankind that would accept Him as their personal Lord and Savior. As Christians, we are the Ambassadors of God, chosen by Him to witness this work and be a light in the darkness, to introduce others to the saving knowledge and power of Jesus Christ. This research will provide lessons to be taught in the local church to provide essentials that will stipulate an understanding of how to define and defend the Christian faith. This information will provide the Christian community with education, therefore, giving them the ability to accurately and confidently defend their faith. This academic research will give the necessary information to educate one on apologetics.

Foreword written by Nancy Pearcey "Parents are the most important apologists our kids will ever know. Mama Bear Apologetics will help you navigate your kids ' questions and prepare them to become committed Christ followers." –J. Warner Wallace "If every Christian mom would apply this book in her parenting, it would profoundly transform the next generation." –Natasha Crain #RoarLikeAMother The problem with lies is they don't often sound like lies. They seem harmless, and even sound right. So what's a Mama Bear to do when her kids seem to be absorbing the culture's lies uncritically? Mama Bear Apologetics™ is the book you've been looking for. This mom-to-mom guide will equip you to teach your kids how to form their own biblical beliefs about what is true and what is false. Through transparent life stories and clear, practical applications—including prayer strategies—this band of Mama Bears offers you tools to train yourself, so you can turn around and train your kids. Are you ready to answer the rallying cry, "Mess with our kids and we will demolish your arguments"? Join the Mama Bears and raise your voice to protect your kids—by teaching them how to think through and address the issues head-on, yet with gentleness and respect.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

This fully-researched, eight-session guide takes participants through a variety of engaging materials that will enable youth leaders, Christian teachers, and parents to strategically teach truth to the next generation. These authors are both parents' and have been youth leaders (and Sean has been a Christian school teacher), so they know how to equip youth influencers to discover fresh ways to reach students and help them be effective defenders of God's truth. Written to work seamlessly with their all-new book and video series, this accessible guide includes questions for reflection, notes for discussion, and plenty of real-life ministry examples to aid readers as they seek to apply the most effective tools to their own youth ministries and classrooms. Participants will grow confident that they 're utilizing the best practices available as they send their youth out into a challenging culture.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

"It is this search for balance, and his real desire to speak into living situations, that sets Johnson's work apart from earlier studies of cults and new religions. At the same time his work is innovative in other ways."

The Moral Teaching of the New Testament

Answering Objections with the Power of the Word

A Homicide Detective Investigates the Claims of the Gospels

Teaching Apologetics

A Game Plan for Discussing Your Christian Convictions

Humble Apologetics

Biblical Apologetics

Many books have successfully defended Christianity against Western rational skepticism. 'Apologetics in the New Age' represents the first serious attempt by evangelical philosophers to answer Eastern pantheism in general and the New Age movement in particular. Teaming up with David Clark, Norman Geisler, one of evangelicalism's leading apologists, probes the pantheistic worldview and its relationship to the New Age movement. Pantheism, the authors write, constitutes the soil in which the movement grows. The notion that every person participates in the divine has found fertile expression in contemporary American culture. The American consciousness of the Eastern alternative has risen rapidly in the last few decades, the authors remind us. Christian apologists have been caught unaware.... For this reason, we believe that Christian apologists must turn their attention in a new direction by developing new arguments for this New Age.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

We're invited to sit at the table with Randal Rauser as he and his atheist counterpoint, Sheridan, engage in a real world apologetic dialogue. As we follow them down rabbit trails and through personal revelations, we experience a paradigm shift in apologetics—where a familiar quibble over terms becomes a mutual apprenticeship with the truth. The vibrant and persuasive arguments of C. S. Lewis brought about a shift in the discipline of apologetics, moving the conversation from the ivory tower to the public square. The resulting strain of popular apologetics—which weaves through Lewis into twentieth-century writers like Francis Schaeffer and modern apologists like William Lane Craig, Josh McDowell, and Lee Strobel—has equipped countless believers to defend their faith against its detractors. Apologetics for the Twenty-first Century uses Lewis's work as the starting point for an absorbing survey of the key apologists and major arguments that inform apologetics today. Like apologists before him, Markos writes to engage Christians of all denominations as well as seekers and skeptics. His narrative, "man of letters" style and short chapters make Apologetics for the Twenty-first Century easily accessible for the general reader. But an extensive and heavily annotated bibliography, detailed timeline, list of prominent apologists, and glossary of common terms will satisfy the curiosity of the seasoned academic, as the book prepares all readers to meet the particular challenges of defending the faith today.

Christian parenting is hard work--and it's getting harder. Parents have a deep desire to pass on their faith, but fear that today's increasingly skeptical and hostile world will eventually lead their kids to reject the truth of Christianity. That leaves many parents feeling overwhelmed--uncertain of what they can do to help their children, given the difficulty and extent of the faith challenges they will face. This practical and timely resource gives parents the confidence of knowing what to discuss with their children and how to discuss it in order to facilitate impactful conversations that will form the basis of a lifelong faith. In a friendly, parent-to-parent voice, Natasha Crain identifies 30 specific conversations about God that parents must have with their children, organizing them under the categories of - the existence of God - science and God - the nature of God - believing in God - the difference God makes

Chapters are sequenced in a curriculum-oriented way to provide a cumulative learning experience, making this book a flexible resource for use in multiple settings: homes, church classes, youth groups, small groups, private Christian schools, and homeschools. Every chapter has a step-by-step conversation guide with discussion questions and tips, and content is readily adaptable for use with kids of any age (elementary through high school).

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Endorsements: "My prayer is that God will use this book to both motivate and equip you to help your kids develop convictions about their faith."--From the foreword by Sean McDowell, PhD, Biola University professor, speaker, and author of more than eighteen books, including A New Kind of Apologist "I can't think of a more relevant or more needed book for parents raising kids in today's culture. This book on apologetics will lead parents in critical conversations that will help grow and guide kids to be lifelong followers of Christ."--Kristen Welch, author of Raising Grateful Kids in an Entitled World "Hey parents: Do you want to reduce the chances that your child will follow the crowd to the point of rejecting Christ and the values and truths you hold so dearly? Then you need to have the conversations that Natasha Crain so brilliantly describes in this book. Prevent heartbreak later by reading and heeding this book now!"--Frank Turek, PhD, president of CrossExamined Ministries and author of I Don't Have Enough Faith to Be an Atheist and Stealing from God "May this book lead to thousands more Moms and Dads engaging with their kids through an intelligent faith. And may there be tens of thousands more kids who feel loved because the adults in their lives take their questions seriously."--Jeff Myers, PhD, president, Summit Ministries

Apologetics, Mission and New Religious Movements: A Holistic Approach
Christian Apologetics

Apologetics in the New Age

Apologetics for the Twenty-First Century

Exploring the Institution of Apologetics in New Testament Christianity

Handbook of Catholic Apologetics

In the Secondary School

Same-sex marriage is here, presenting unique challenges and opportunities. How do those who follow Christ faithfully answer standard talking points for same-sex marriage? And how can the best articulate the case for one-man, one-woman marriage in everyday conversation? Sean McDowell and John Stonestreet believe a thoughtful approach to God's design for marriage is the answer to both questions. The key is not a contentious attitude towards those who believe in same-sex marriage, but a winsome perspective that is faithful to Christ, committed to truth, and shaped by a love for God and others. Christians need to know that because Christ has risen, there is no such thing as "all hope is lost." They are still called to engage culture even if they are viewed as wrong, illegal and intolerant.

Divine hiddenness, naturalism, Zeitgeist: The Movie, Hinduism. Addressing contemporary challenges to the church, nineteen respected modern Christian apologists offer thoughtful new essays on culture, the historical Jesus, other religions, and more.

Publisher description: Is it still possible, in an age of religious and cultural pluralism, to engage in Christian apologetics? How can one urge one's faith on others when such a gesture is typically regarded with suspicion, if not outright resentment? In Humble Apologetics John G. Stackhouse brings his wide experience as a historian, philosopher, journalist, and theologian to these important questions and offers surprising--and reassuring--answers.

Stackhouse begins by acknowledging the real impediments to Christian testimony in North America today and to other faiths in modern societies around the world. He shows how pluralism, postmodernism, skepticism about our ability to know the truth, a host of other factors create a cultural milieu resistant to the Christian message. And he shows how the arrogance or dogmatism of apologists themselves can alienate rather than attract potential converts. Indeed, Stackhouse argues that the crucial experience of conversion cannot be compelled; all the apologist can do is lead another to the point where an actual encounter with Jesus can take place. "Our objective," Stackhouse writes, "is to offer whatever assistance we can to our neighbors toward their full maturity: toward full health in themselves and in their relationships, and especially toward God." In the last part of the book, he shows how an attitude of humility, instead of merely trying to win religious arguments, will help believers offer their neighbors the gift of Christ's love. Drawing on the author's personal experience and written with an engaging directness and humility, Humble Apologetics provides sound guidance on how to share Christian faith in a postmodern world.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

In this systematic text, Douglas Groothuis makes a comprehensive apologetic case for Christian theism. He defends objective truth and presents the key arguments for God from natural theology and makes a case for the credibility of Jesus, the incarnation and the resurrection, assessing alternative views along the way.

Viewed as Evidential to Its Historical Truth

Reasoned Answers to Questions of Faith

Lifegivers Apologetics

The Swedish Atheist, the Scuba Diver and Other Apologetic Rabbit Trails

So the Next Generation Will Know

Developing a Christian Apologetics Educational Program

A New Kind of Apologist, edited by Sean McDowell, discusses important topics often ignored by apologists, emphasizes a new kind of apologetics that is relational, gracious, and holistic. It includes interviews with seasoned apologists as well as with skeptics, providing insights into how to do apologetics effectively in today's culture.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

The New Dictionary of Christian Apologetics is a must-have resource for professors and students, pastors and laypersons--in short, for any Christian who wishes to understand or develop a rational explanation of the Christian faith in the context of today's complex and ever-changing world. Packed with hundreds of articles that cover the key topics, historic figures and contemporary global issues relating to the study and practice of Christian apologetics, this handy one-volume resource will make an invaluable addition to any Christian library. Editors Gavin McGrath and W. C. Campbell-Jack, with consulting editor C. Stephen Evans, have divided the dictionary into two parts: Part one offers a series of introductory essays that set the framework for the dictionary. These essays examine the practice and importance of Christian apologetics in light of theological, historical and cultural concerns. Part two builds on these essays to present numerous alphabetized articles on individuals, ideas, movements and disciplines that are vital to a rational explanation of the Christian faith. Both essays and articles are written by leading Christian philosophers and theologians. Together, they form an indispensable resource for Christians living in today's pluralistic age.

So the Next Generation Will Know equips parents, youth leaders, and Christian teachers with practical strategies to train students to understand and defend the Christian faith.

Many are expressing concern about the future of Christian youth today. What can we do to help ensure they will keep their evangelical faith once they graduate from high school? Can Christian apologetics provide an educational solution? Developing A Christian Apologetics Educational Program explores issues certain to be encountered by secondary school educators who want to teach apologetics as a distinct subject of study either as a part of a Christian institutional or home school curriculum. This book helps the apologist and educator blend their skills to soundly integrate the two subjects. A solution is sought by providing a background and rationale for implementing an age-level appropriate apologetics course at this critical level of Christian education. This book is designed as a text to supplement those used in Christian education or applied apologetics courses; each chapter successively builds upon the other to help develop an educational philosophy that supports the inclusion of apologetics in the curriculum. A model is explained and materials are given to support the development of a curriculum in Christian Apologetics Education at the secondary level. Practical ideas are explored and a sample unit of instruction is supplied to help the educator develop an evangelical approach to education that is in the classical apologetic tradition. "There is nothing like this on the market. It fills a much-needed gap in the apologetic market. Dr. Potter offers a clear, correct, and comprehensive overview of how to develop an apologetics education program. Nothing is needed more in our churches and schools than this to stop the hemorrhaging of the loss of our young people who are going out into the enemy camp with no real preparation to meet the challenges. Every pastor, teacher, Christian educator, and parent needs a copy of this book." --Norman Geisler Distinguished Professor Apologetics Veritas

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Evangelical Seminary "We entered the Adult Sunday school class and were surprised a State University student was the teacher. We had raised eyebrows going in, but left awestruck with Doug Potter's teaching. We found Doug to be an incredible Bible scholar. For many years Doug's vision has been to provide a scholarly work to assist Bible teachers teach future generations to defend their Christian faith. I heartily recommend this book, a useful tool for every Bible teacher." --Timothy L. Heaton Professor of Education Cedarville University, Cedarville, Ohio Douglas E. Potter is Registrar at Southern Evangelical Seminary, Director of the Doctor of Ministry Program, and an instructor in the Bible College. He is also managing editor of the Christian Apologetics Journal. Ethix

Teaching Worldview Apologetics to Increase Evangelistic Confidence at Piperton Baptist Church, Collierville, Tennessee

Apologetics for the Ordinary Christian

A New Kind of Apologist

Same-Sex Marriage (Thoughtful Response)

Preparing Young Christians in a Challenging World

Being Bold in a Whatever World

Sean McDowell and Jonathan Morrow have penned an accessible yet rigorous look at the arguments of the New Atheists. Writing from a distinctively Christian perspective, McDowell and Morrow lay out the facts so that the emerging generation can make up their own mind after considering all the evidence.

The Christian faith offers people hope. But how can we know that Christianity is true? How can Christians confidently present their beliefs in the face of doubts and competing views? In this second edition of a landmark apologetics text, Douglas Groothuis makes a clear and rigorous case for Christian theism, addressing the most common questions and objections raised regarding Christianity.

Presents a humble and relational approach to faith that addresses the questions the emerging generation is asking, encouraging teenagers leaving home for college to take their faith with them. Original.

The purpose of this project is to train church members in worldview apologetics in order to increase evangelistic confidence.

Chapter 1 presents the purpose, goals, context, rationale, definitions, limitations, and research methodology of the project.

Chapter 2 provides biblical and theological support for teaching worldview apologetics by examining the New Testament mandate for apologetics. Additionally, this chapter explores common hurdles to coming to faith in Christ including: (1) the purpose of life, (2) reconciling faith and doubt, (3) and the problem of evil. Chapter 3 discusses theoretical and practical issues of teaching worldview apologetics. Specifically, this chapter explores postmodernism's shaping effect upon worldview, Christian worldview, worldview apologetics in a postmodern world, and obstacles to teaching worldview apologetics in the local church. Chapter 4 explains the elements of the ministry research project. This chapter systematically describes what the project entailed and how it was conducted including: project surveys, interviews, and sermon and teaching synopses. Chapter 5 provides an evaluation and reflection of the project's purpose, goals, and modifications to strengthen the project for future use. This project can benefit any size church, in any demographic setting, as more than another evangelistic method.

New Testament and Post-apostolic
The Unaware Church

Women Designed and Equipped to Share Reasons for the Hope Within

Apologetics Study Bible for Students

30 Conversations Every Christian Parent Must Have

A Survey of Christian Apologetics on a High School Level

Every Believer Confident

With a unique blend of streetwise and scientific Christian teaching, the son of bestselling author Josh McDowell aims to help high school and college students make Bible-informed ethical decisions on issues including abortion, homosexuality, marriage and divorce, and the morality of war.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Provides Old and New Testament text, accompanied by articles and features to help young students better articulate and defend their faith as they begin to approach young adulthood.

Training in Christian apologetics is an absolutely necessary and vital part of Christian discipleship. "Contend" is a compelling volume designed to strengthen the faith of believers while challenging skeptics to reconsider the evidence for the truth of the Christian worldview. Written on a high school level, "Contend" is perfect for classrooms, small groups, or individual study.

Answers questions about Christ that even adults struggle to answer. You meet skeptics every day. They ask questions like: Was Jesus really born in a stable? Did his friends tell the truth? Did he really come back from the dead? Here's a book written in kid-friendly language that gives you all the answers. Packed full of well-researched, reliable, and eye-opening investigations of some of the biggest questions you have, The Case for Christ for Kids brings Christ to life by addressing the miracles, ministry, family, and existence of Jesus of Nazareth.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Is God Just a Human Invention? And Seventeen Other Questions Raised by the New Atheists

Mama Bear Apologetics™

Case for Christ for Kids

Advancing and Defending the Gospel of Christ

A Comprehensive Case for Biblical Faith

Museum and English Journal of Education

LifeGivers Apologetics equips Christian women with the knowledge and skills they need in order to share evidences supporting the truth claims of her Christian faith. As a Christian apologist and researcher pursuing doctoral studies in apologetics, Tricia has mined numerous sources to bring the reader current and relevant philosophical, scientific, archaeological and historical information that addresses the most common issues arising in conversations with unbelievers.

Specifically, the book explains good reasons for believing that truth is objective, that God is more than an imaginary friend conjured by weak-minded people who need an emotional crutch, that the rational person can and should believe in the possibility of miracles, that the New Testament is a trustworthy document, and that in the New Testament Jesus Christ not only claimed to be

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

God, but also proved that He was God. Tricia also contends that as God-designed nurturers and relational beings, women bring to apologetics conversations an intimacy and warmth that opens doors to discussions about the deepest concerns of unbelievers and struggling Christians. To assist women in navigating conversations, she shares basic communication skills, many of which she learned in her years as a registered nurse. At the end of the book, the gospel message is clearly explained so that the reader can know how to tell someone exactly how to trust Jesus as Savior. Endnotes at the back of the book provide information on a wealth of resources the reader can access to further enhance learning. LifeGivers Apologetics is a must-have resource that every Christian woman should keep on her bookshelf as a ready reference.

Beyond the Classroom provides an easy-to-read plan for church pastors and church leaders to improve Christian education in the church. Teaching and teacher training are the main emphasis of the book. The scholar and former director of Christian education in a New York megachurch provides the AZ plan for developing or improving Christian education.

For the average Christian who longs to share their faith effectively but doesn't know where to begin, Every Believer Confident is the ultimate guidebook. All believers are called to make disciples and "give an answer" when objections are raised against the faith. Most Christians want to share and defend their beliefs, but they often feel ill-equipped. They desire to reach friends, family, coworkers, and classmates with the good news of Jesus Christ, but lack confidence and skill. They want to be like Jesus and effectively engage the lost with the powerful truth of the gospel. They just don't know how. What's needed is a way to simplify apologetics and make it accessible to the average church member who will never study philosophy or science. If every church member was indeed a skilled evangelist, churches would not have to depend on come-and-see events to reach the community, because every member would be practicing the go-and-tell approach Scripture assumes. Every Believer Confident: Apologetics for the Ordinary Christian simplifies the basic principles of apologetics and provides effective strategies for use in actual encounters with unbelievers. It provides a structure whereby any Christian can engage anyone they meet, move the conversation to spiritual matters, answer objections raised against the Christian faith, and present the gospel of Christ in all its glory and rationality.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Unbelievers, doubters and skeptics continue to attack the truths of Christianity. Handbook of Catholic Apologetics is the only book that categorizes and summarizes all the major arguments in support of the main Christian beliefs, including key distinctively Catholic doctrines. Also included is a Protestant-friendly treatment of Catholic-Protestant issues. The Catholic answers to Protestant questions show how Catholicism is the fullness of the Christian faith. An expanded, Catholic edition of the popular book Handbook of Christian Apologetics, Handbook of Catholic Apologetics is full of the wisdom and wit, clarity and insight of philosophers Peter Kreeft and Ronald Tacelli. This is an informative and valuable guidebook for anyone looking for answers to questions of faith and reason. Whether you are asking the questions yourself or want to respond to others who are, here is the resource you have been waiting for. Topics include: Faith and

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

reasonThe existence of GodGod's natureCreation and evolutionProvidence and free willMiraclesProblem of evilBible's historical reliabilityDivinity of ChristChrist's resurrectionLife after deathHeaven, hell, purgatorySalvationChristianity and other religionsObjective truthSacramentalismThe Eucharist and the Real Presence of JesusMary's role in the Christian orderThe authority of the ChurchCommunion of saintsFaith and worksCatholicism as Complete Christianity
Cold-Case Christianity
New Essays in Christian Apologetics
New Dictionary of Christian Apologetics
Defending the Faith Today
Studies in the History of Christian Apologetics
Talking with Your Kids about God Contend

In a world increasingly indifferent to Christian truth, followers of Christ need to be equipped to communicate with those who do not speak their language or accept their source of authority. Gregory Koukl demonstrates how to get in the driver's seat, keeping any conversation moving with thoughtful, artful diplomacy. You'll learn how to maneuver comfortably and graciously through the minefields, stop challengers in their tracks, turn the tables and---most importantly---get people thinking about Jesus. Soon, your conversations will look more like diplomacy than D-Day. Drawing on extensive experience defending Christianity in the public square, Koukl shows you how to: - Initiate conversations effortlessly - Present the truth clearly, cleverly, and persuasively - Graciously and effectively expose faulty thinking - Skillfully manage the details of dialogue - Maintain an engaging, disarming style even under attack Tactics provides the game plan for communicating the compelling truth about Christianity with confidence and grace.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Teaching Apologetics is a much-needed staple for churches, schools, and individual Christians to continue the conversation of faith based on God's Word. The church needs Apologetics because it helps Christians know their faith, which is sadly lacking among believers. It helps to define and defend the truths of the Bible, and the instruction answers the hard questions that the church is not asking or answering. With this in mind, you'll find useful tools for adult and youth Bible study groups, with pastors and teachers in mind. One of the sad and alarming realities is the absence of Apologetics in Christian teaching sessions. Teaching Apologetics can be a vital piece of learning and living the Christian faith. Fruitful information is given in this book alongside an explanation for why each church and school should be teaching Apologetics. We also need apologetics to counter the bad image that Christianity has received in our culture. Because of this, too many young adults are leaving the church. This book is easy to understand and was written for every Christian, Atheist and those who are not sure what to believe. If you're having a hard time learning or teaching in the Christian community, you'll find curriculums for both sides of the spectrum. This book tells you what to teach and why. If you ever feel lost or question what you have been taught in the past, this book gives you answers based on the Truth and offers resources for additional assistance. This book was written as a "wake-up" call for all Christian churches. It is time to tell the Truth, the whole Truth, and nothing but the Truth. The book you are holding in your hands is perhaps the simplest, most straightforward summary and how-to guide for presuppositional apologetics now in print. It is both informative and practically helpful. I believe you will find it an extremely useful tool whether you are an professor at the seminary level seeking supplemental reading material or just a simple lay person looking for practical answers. Pastor McManis writes with crisp clarity in a way that is certain to give you fresh insight into what Scripture teaches about the defense of the Christian faith. I wish this book had been available when I was studying apologetics in seminary." John MacArthur, Pastor-Teacher, Grace Community Church; President of The Masters College and Seminary Cliff has rescued the discipline from the elite circle of the intelligentsia and returned it as a biblical theology of truth communication to the common people (i.e. to all believers). This volume will be of great help in the restoration of the practicality of biblical apologetics as it was exemplified in the early Church. Hopefully, today's readers will be able to understand and put into practice the true nature of Peter's command in 1 Peter 3:15 as it is strategically situated in its defining context. George J. Zemek, Academic Dean, The Expositors Seminary, Jupiter, Florida.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Written by an L. A. County homicide detective and former atheist, Cold-Case Christianity examines the claims of the New Testament using the skills and strategies of a hard-to-convince criminal investigator. Christianity could be defined as a “ cold case ” : it makes a claim about an event from the distant past for which there is little forensic evidence. In Cold-Case Christianity, J. Warner Wallace uses his nationally recognized skills as a homicide detective to look at the evidence and eyewitnesses behind Christian beliefs. Including gripping stories from his career and the visual techniques he developed in the courtroom, Wallace uses illustration to examine the powerful evidence that validates the claims of Christianity. A unique apologetic that speaks to readers ’ intense interest in detective stories, Cold-Case Christianity inspires readers to have confidence in Christ as it prepares them to articulate the case for Christianity.

An Approach to Teaching Christian Apologetics to the Believers in the Local Church

A New Approach to Christian Education

A Christian Critique of Pantheism

Preparing Young Christians for a Challenging World Tactics

Come Let Us Reason

Expository Apologetics

A New Kind of Apologist Harvest House Publishers

In this second book of the logos apologetics series, we will examine the institution of apologetics in New Testament Christianity. We will investigate the biblical roots of apologetics beginning with Jesus. Moreover, we will explore how apologetic ministry manifested in the lives of the apostles. It is our prayer that you will appreciate the heritage of apologetics in the New Testament Church.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Apologetics is for everyone. The Bible is clear that all believers are called to defend their faith. However, if apologetics is the formal process that we have come to expect, this sounds like an impossible task. But what if apologetics could be part of natural, normal conversation—both from the pulpit and in everyday life? Aimed at preparing you to clearly and confidently defend your faith, Expository Apologetics sets forth an approach to apologetics that is rooted in Scripture and eminently accessible. Filled with real-world examples and practical advice, this book will equip you with the tools you need to think biblically and converse persuasively—offering unbelievers “a reason for the hope that is in you.”

Many are expressing concern about the future of Christian youth today. What can we do to help ensure they will keep their evangelical faith once they graduate from high school? Can Christian apologetics provide an educational solution? Developing A Christian Apologetics Educational Program explores issues certain to be encountered by secondary school educators who want to teach apologetics as a distinct subject of study either as a part of a Christian institutional or home school curriculum. This book helps the apologist and educator blend their skills to soundly integrate the two subjects. A solution is sought by providing a background and rationale for implementing an age-level appropriate apologetics course at this critical level of Christian education. This book is designed as a text to supplement those used in Christian education or applied apologetics courses; each chapter successively builds upon the other to help develop an educational philosophy that supports the inclusion of apologetics in the curriculum. A model is explained and materials are given to support the development of a curriculum in Christian Apologetics Education at the secondary level. Practical ideas are explored and a sample unit of instruction is supplied to help the educator develop an evangelical approach to education that is in the classical apologetic tradition.

Online Library Teaching Apologetics To The Next Generation

Beyond the Classroom

A Thoughtful Approach to God's Design for Marriage

So the Next Generation Will Know Participant's Guide

The Development of New Testament Apologetics

Apologetics for a New Generation

The Museum. [entitled] The Museum and English journal of education

Empowering Your Kids to Challenge Cultural Lies