Presents guidance, first published in 1911, on camping skills; identification of birds, animals, trees, and plants; tracks and trailing; signaling; health and endurance; chivalry; first aid and lifesaving; games and athletic standards; and patriotism and citizenship; and also covers Scouting virtues, the Scout Oath and Law, Scout rank, and knots every Scout should know.

Scoutmaster's and Scout Leaders alike must fill many shoes. They must manage, lead, teach, and protect their scouts, but most of all they must inspire them, for a scout who does not know his true purpose is a lost scout, one who will often fall behind. With over 70 inspirational stories and lessons Scoutmaster's Minutes allows you as a leader to impart the wisdom of many others who have come before them, teaching a new lesson every meeting. Help your scouts dive deeper into the Scout Law, the Scout Oath, and the Scout Motto. Incite discussions about morals, values, and character.

Written primarily by Ernest Thompson Seton, with sections added from Lieutenant General Sir Robert Baden-Powell's "Scouting for Boys" and "Aids to Scouting." The 1910 Original Edition is a milestone in the history of the Boy Scouts of America. Published only from July 1910 to March 1911, this short-lived BSA Handbook was cobbled together using material from Seton's earlier work "The Birch Bark Roll" and then fused with Baden-Powell's Boy Scouts concept. Always meant as a temporary handbook until a proper one could be written and published, the 1910 Original Edition is super interesting and contains a wealth of woodsman's lore and military scouting techniques and training which do not appear in later editions of the BSA Handbooks. With these words Chuck Grant reflects on his adventure as a new Scoutmaster - If I had a nickel for every time I thought, said or heard the phrase "so far so good" over the past few months I'd be a rich man! to move. Mark Hacker, our committee chair, took me aside one evening and asked me if I would consider being the new Scoutmaster. I was stunned. I love Scouting, it's great fun. But, really? My wife Anne and I discussed the commitments involved, she appreciated what Scouts did for our son and believes in the program. She agreed I ought to give it a try. I called Mark and told him I would take the job in the fall. I had three months to prepare, so I started reading everything I could find about Scouting. I felt a combination of excitement and dread. It was like stepping off the edge and jumping into a volcano; no turning back now!

Being a scoutmaster can be one of the most rewarding things a person can do. But it can be a lot of work! Ask any scoutmaster what 's the hardest part of the job, and one of the most common responses you will get would be coming up with the scoutmaster 's minutes. Week after week, over fifty times a year, the scoutmaster must come up with an inspiring, educational, and entertainment message for the Scouts. Let 's face it. Not every scoutmaster is the most gifted public speaker. Research shows that the number one fear of people is speaking in public. Just because a scoutmaster loves to hike, camp, teach, lead, and motivate, doesn 't mean that they are comfortable speaking in front of a group. And how do you come up with inspiring stories, instructional words of wisdom
